Lead poisoning is 100% preventable

Damage from lead poisoning is irreversible. Children under age 6 and pregnant women are at greatest risk.

Lead poisoning is most often caused by deteriorated or disturbed lead-based paint in structures built before 1978.

Lead poisoning can cause:

- ▶ Learning disabilities, aggressive behavior, ADHD, decreased IQ, hearing loss, speech delays and other health effects in children.
- ▶ High blood pressure, increased risk of early death, and kidney damage in adults.
- ▶ Low birth-weight babies, miscarriages, and stillbirths in pregnant women.
